6.11.8 Pragma directives

Pragma directives
future language
directions

Pragmas whose first preprocessing token is STDC are reserved for future standardization.

Commentary

The Committee is claiming a very limited subset of possible pragma directives for their own future use. However, this does not mean that any future standard pragma directives will have STDC as the third preprocessing token.

C90

Support for this form of pragma directive is new in C99.
